

Messages from IPYGG who attended the 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit

In this summer my friend from South Korea suggested me to visit South Korea as a participant in the 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit. Unfortunately, because of personal reasons I could not to take a part in this event. But when I watched one of conferences of this summit through media, I had an amazing feeling about this event. I watched “Youth Conference” video which is only one part of this event. But I got such an emotion and an inspirational thought about IPYG’s actions which motivate youth to build a peace in the world. After this Youth Conference I believed that IPYG is such a serious community where we can see high motivated and enthusiastic young leader and also government officials and ministers from all over the world. I noticed that young leaders from different countries express their willing to encourage other youth to be active in bringing peace for whole society.

As I see, IPYG’s main purpose is calling and motivating young generation to support HWPL and DPCW in order to put reunification of Korean Peninsula in process and through this action members and supporters of IPYG will join youth around the world as a one harmony. I am highly sure that IPYG in not based with issues in particular country but it can function for all of us (young generation) and teach for tolerance and peaceful way of life. After the watching the Youth Conference I am extremely motivated to have a role in supporting IPYG’s actions in order achieve DPCW missions. Why do I need this? As a global citizen of our planet I should do my maximum effort to build a peaceful society and I will start my best by encouraging my society and youth community here in Kyrgyz Republic. I am sure that we-youth of Kyrgyz Republic can have a voice to our state officials and call them to help DPCW in achieving its goals. Also I am seriously dedicated and will do my personal effort to organize student meetings and peace talk conferences and spread the idea of IPYG. It is only the way of reaching our mission of peace in our planet and grant it for next generation.

The Summit looked very exciting and creative. I loved the creative use of placards through which message of peace was shown to all participants.

I am looking forward to more students from Pacific region to attend this summit. Also look forward to meeting many young leaders from all over the globe. In the coming months, we are planning to hold peace building and security seminars in the University with students.

Thank you very much for the opportunity to Invite us for the Special summit. I enjoyed meeting with you and I especially enjoyed learning more about the Peace in world.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you chairman, and in worked with you and your staff too.

We awareness our young generation about this summit. Chairman of National Youth Services Council is also highly appreciated this summit and we hope to organized Peace summit in Sri Lanka near future and we need your fullest support. Again, thank you for your time and consideration and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thank you

Even if I was not present there during the Summit, my spirit was there. I expect to inspire and get inspired as well and meet the big family of PEACE and build a strong relationship with them next year.

I am so glad to be among the few who received this award. It really means a lot to me. I would like to thank HWPL for recognizing our movement toward supporting the DPCW.

I would like this connection we have already to be stronger and let's speed up our steps for Peace. Our collective effort ensures a peaceful world. Let's work together to restore the peaceful place where our ancestors Adam and Eve were staying and where the universe was given to all Humanity to take care of.

Hello, IPYG

Thank you for inviting me to every wonderful peace event of the IPYG. I was always surprised that youth gathered to make a peace event, and I got great hope when I saw the clear smile of youth. I am proud that you are the great youth of Korea.

Thank you so much for the peace activities you are making. Migrant women will be together with the IPYG to achieve peace in the world.

Let us all love.

For me 'Peace' was just a word, not a buzz-word. Peace for me was actually a generally used word in daily usage or sometimes with zeal and fervour on National festivals like Indian Independence Day and Indian Republic day. To give weightage to the word 'Peace', I have to attach with Mahatama Gandhi while speaking publically.

I am a Professor of Public Administration in a College here in Chandigarh, India. When I started reading the philosophy of HWPL and the noble and dedicated the IPYG movement, I got impressed with their Idea of Peace. The DPCW is like a Bible to this movement. I have discussed all the points of the DPCW with my students in College and I have gotten amazing feedback.

I never knew that during my visit to Incheon, South Korea for attending WARP Summit a whole new pandora box of knowledge about Global peace will open.

Right from reception at airport by dedicated volunteers to the unmatched humanly energy of octogenarian Chairman Han Lee everything was too big to be absorbed in a short span of time. But I must share an experience to be treasured till my last breath.

On coming back, I have planned to organize talks at College and University level also encouraging my students to write Peace Letters.

Thanks for giving me this opportunity HWPL.

It was a great pleasure to be invited as a VIP guest for the 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit representing the National Youth Services Council of Sri Lanka.

First of all i would like to thank IPYG Peace Family of South Korea for giving me this opportunity to participate in such a great event which is focused on world peace and peace education, a highly important topic, valuable for today's world.

From this event and the programs such as valuable lectures and discussions, I gained vast knowledge about the negative impact of war, the importance of world peace and peace education and gained a chance to exchange ideas about world peace with various cultural backgrounds.

As a country which has a very dark history because of a 30 year war, this event gave me the knowledge and experience to enhance the peace of our country by educating and encouraging the youth of Sri Lanka to avoid such social disasters and make sure it does not happen ever again.

And i would like to make this as an opportunity to appreciate HWPL and it's Chairman Mr. Man Hee Lee for the efforts they take to enhance world peace. And specially i am very thankful to Mr. Julian, Mr Minjae, Ms Yerim and Ms Hannah for all the support and hospitality they showed us not only throughout the program, but also before and after the program by educating and follow-up us about the event.

Finally, as a member of peace family, i promise that i will work on the world peace with the knowledge and experience i gained from this event for a better future and a better world.

As an Indian I was proud to be a peace messenger. In my 4 day's experience I have acknowledged my view toward world' peace, through sessions which were designed BY HWPL and the IPYG. Even I have been working for peace for 18 years, but this summit made me realize to connect the world by this Summit. I had an opportunity to meet different leaders across the world, youngsters and religious leaders. After attending the Summit I have decided to spend my entire life to spread peace and harmony where we can get the world together. I saw this happening in South Korea where I saw the entire world together for the five days. I wish this will happen in every country where countries come together, religion comes together and we have only place for peace and love back. In Bangalore, India, every month I have made an agenda for setting up a peace campaign in different universities and with youngsters and also spread my experience to students who want to work on HWPL and the IPYG.

It is with great pleasure, I would want to thank the entire organization of HWPL because it was a spectacular show and it was organized with so much love and kindness.

It was once again proven that peace is a powerful tool and that it is the need of the moment and the dedication of Mr. Chairman Man Hee Lee of HWPL. I could witness that once a seed has been turned out to be a fruit. My Heartfelt gratitude to him for his works.

My life has been dedicated to the cause of peace work and being part of HWPL and the work of the organization, Volunteers and external partners gives me strong hope and i shall keep spreading the message of peace and the importance in India.

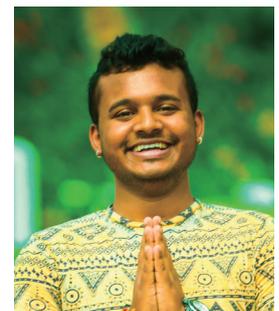

My resolution for 2018 is to get the signature of the Present and Former prime minister of India and organize campaigns which invoke the young minds to think and question the injustice around them in a peaceful way.

Thank you HWPL and the IPYG for all that you do.

WARP Summit once again reminded all of us how much peace is important. It was also a great inspiration - nowhere in the world can you see so many people at one place that are united for peace.

I specifically liked the Peace Festival and I showed the highlights of it to a lot of my friends.

Chairman Lee is an inspiration for all peace-lovers and a great role model. I wish he will be able to lead the movement for many more years to come.

Even though it was my first time knowing about the IPYG, I was impressed that the IPYG was much more influential and practical than any other peace organizations in the world. In fact, I thought that there would not be many things I could do for peace as a youth. However, through Peace Letter project, I have perceived its potential and its feasibility. From now on, I will not become a passive youth who only thinks about Peace but be an active one who strives for his hope of the future and the world.

Korea has gone through some struggles during the past fifty years. Beside these hard times I'm amazed to see how this nation fights for its peaceful future. Whole country deciding to spread one direct message is really inspiring. I saw how united people were with the power of word. This fight is not only for the future it's also for the past. We can't develop if we don't know how we identify ourselves as. That's why the Korean peninsula should be united again.

It's amazing how people share and unite under this one idea. The peace festival for the 2018 HWPL Peace Summit was as free as People's will to spread their voice. It was full of color and culture and was just emotional to see the power they exposed to the world. I think at that moment nothing was impossible to achieve. This was a connection that can't be described.

I'm even more amazed and proud of the youth in spreading a culture of peace. I'm grateful to say that i took a slightly little part in this process and had the opportunity to communicate with great people. Young generation is the one who has to take part in forming the future. I saw how dedicated these people were for a change. Making your voice heard when you are young is hard but this factor hasn't stopped the IPYG. The musical performance was breathtaking. I was sad and excited at the same time. I could really relate to the concept of the performance and it was really emotional for me personally.

I was delighted that i could share my view on this big event. Also thankful for meeting members of young generation from different countries. Amazing how we stereotype ourselves as different nations, but in reality we are really similar and face the same problems every day. I will always support free will and stand next to people who fight for a peaceful future.

Dear IPYG,

We feel so sad for not being able to participate in the 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit. We really appreciate the hard work you are doing, and feel so proud to be a part of the peace family.

Watching the full video of WARP summit, is a cheerful positive thing. It was a warm feeling to see different people, from all over the world, with a diversity of backgrounds, participating and working for one goal "making peace".

We will work hard, and try our best to promote this very great news here in Morocco. By sensitizing youths around us starting by our region, we can effectively contribute in the success of peacemaking.

So let's make peace and let's be a good peace messenger.

We are one, دجاو نحن

Greetings, my name is Muhammad Amir Shafik Rahman, a foreigner from Malaysia that currently is studying and living in Korea.

First of all, I would like to thanks for inviting me to 2018 HWPL World Peace Summit, which took place from September 17 to September 19 in Incheon. It was really an amazing experience for me as this is my first time seeing all high figures, former prime ministers, peace educators, and youth all around the world gather together with one heart sharing their wish and passions to realize peace.

I also would like to give my thanks to the Korean delegates and all the volunteers for helping us throughout this whole event, from picking up at airport until sending us back to the airport. I was very amazed by their passion and responsibility towards their work.

During this whole event, I have noticed that no one in this world wants war, but everyone wants peace. I believe that we as a youth have the power to change this world to a better place where everyone can live together in peace without war. As an IPYG member from Malaysia, I hope we can work together and hope that peace is not only the responsibility of the IPYG but also the responsibility to each one of us as youth. Let's walk together to become a peace messengers.

I am Jun Yung from Malaysia.

Thank you for awarding me the honor to be here in Incheon, South Korea for the 2018 HWPL World Peace Summit: 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit. This is an eye opening experience for me. I can truly feel the fire in everyone's heart that is fighting for peace.

Although I am not a Korean. But I felt so touched when I saw the performance regarding the reunification of Korea Peninsula. Everyone in the stadium was cheering for it and I can feel their desire wanting for peace and unity. I really wish that this can be done in Malaysia and letting more Malaysians feel the true unity of people.

I am truly glad that I can be part of the IPYG and contribute to world peace. I am very positive and looking forward to seeing the achievement of world peace by HWPL.

When we become one, we can achieve world peace.

We are one!

Hello to everyone,

I am Dritor Mehmeti representative of Kosovo in WARP Summit 2018 from the IPYG.

This year was the first time I participated in the Summit and I was extremely excited about everything I experienced there starting from the welcome that was very warm from all IPYG members as well as other people there, the respect they provided us during the time we stayed in South Korea.

The thing that impressed me most about during WARP Summit 2018 Ceremony is that everything was organized with perfectionism and in detail so there was no room for even the slightest mistake. The thing that affected me most is the motto which was used by all “WE ARE ONE”, which was mean no matter what is nationality, religion, race or gender we are, we are together every time toward achieving a common goal who is the achievement of peace and cessation of war.

HWPL family, you're the biggest hope for the future for all people who are suffering from wars currently, keep working for peace and share the Declaration for Peace and cessation of war to all the states in the world.

First of all I want to congratulate for all hard job that HWPL did in 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit. Every year is growing up more and more and I see more people participating for Peace.

All events and sessions were very valuable so i can't separate them cause each of them had an important mission to do in the next steps, every session and event had a strong message and the thing that I liked more and impressed me was the way how the message was given, starting from workshops with the projects as Peace Concert, Peace Educator which are too much important cause we can educate future generations and they will grow up in harmony together, also the Speechs from different countries were so meaningful which invited all people around the world to join and support the DPCW and in the end to close all this amazing work was The Festival where people with different activities showed us that we can live in a better world and the world can be a safe place to live in.

I want to say Thank you to Mr. Chairman Lee for this peace movement specially with the youths and he made it clear that we youths are the main messengers and the future generation of this world, if we gather together for Peace we can make changes.

Real Peace around the world begins within you !!!

First of all this summit left me with a lot of memories, a lot of moments which they will follow me for my life journey. I don't know where to begin to describe this summit and its help that it gave me and I will try to make a summary about it but the beauty of this summit left me speechless in every aspect.

The will of every youngin and representatives from all around the world in this summit means that they are ready to implement "Peace" as something necessary and vital for every person and every state. However the carefulness towards our culture, our history and events that followed us it's something that amazed me from our friends that we made over there. We strongly approve the form that you selected for "Peace-making" made this summit incomparable and unique. Although the organizing of this summit impact us to help and support this kind of events in the future wherever they will be held.

HWPL (the IPYG) is a very beneficial movement which is distributed around the world in a very fast way, with their projects showed us the impact that they are making around the world for their good purpose, they shouldn't stop until every person understands their vision and stands or supports that vision as we will.

The message that we won't forget or leave behind will be the call and uniting people for "Peace-Making" without looking the religion of people, race of people, gender etc, my point is that we should live in a world without wars and in a world of peace for the sake of our children or those that will come after us. Teaching us for "Peace-making" is the best solution to implement every type of peace mechanism in every state so we can develop more and live happily for the rest of our lives.

I felt as if I was in another world when I attended the 2018 HWPL World Peace Summit. Inside the outdoors stadium with around 110,000 participants, I watched the performances of the different branches and heard speeches from prestigious figures from around the world, including Chairman Lee. There are two quotes that I still remember. They were “a peaceful relationship with North Korea, along with the era of peace, is not far off” and “as the leaders of peace, we must have the right heart.” When these words were spoken, everyone in the audience cheered and clapped I felt through the participants’ reactions and empathy that the world is full of people who love and care for peace. Moreover, when I thought about all the members of HWPL and other leaders who had been unable to attend the event but were still carrying out works of peace, I felt small and unfit to be part of such an incredible event. I was lucky enough to sit in a meeting with figures associated with our branch, and I was able to hear the true meaning of HWPL from an HWPL member as well as give my own speech. I felt a bit shy because I had little experience writing speeches, and my speech was full of personal opinions, but the other leaders read my translated speech and showed agreement with my words. They spoke about their country’s situation, and stated that they believed that “this unfortunate situation will become better.” It seemed as if they were aware of how nervous I was and they were trying to help me relax. When I heard about each country firsthand from the speakers, I was able to understand more because it was more specific and detailed compared to what I had heard before. Listening to these leaders made me realize that I am lucky to live in such a country as my own. Realizing that there are many people who are living in much more dangerous situations and yet are working harder for peace than myself made me think and reflect on what more I could do with my situation.

Alongside the rest of the world, I will work harder for peace with the right mindset and become a global leader for peace.

First of all I would like to thank the IPYG for choosing me as a representative of Africa Unite to go to the WARP Summit.

It was my first time realising that it is possible to mobilise thousands of young people for one cause. That for me was the major highlight, just to see the inspiration of South Korean young people. The way they were organised, the way they volunteered, the way they were dedicated for peace work: For them it is not just work, it is more than that. It is really embedded within their hearts that they want to fight for peace and not actually working for peace. I think there is a really huge distinction and it is a really big message to many young out there: If its peace we don't have to work for it but its something you have to dedicate yourself to. I really was amazed by the dedication not just by the young people but when we went to the stadium, there were thousands of people.

When we do events here, we are always thinking about transport money and refreshments but there was no worry about that, everyone was committed to come and rejoiced and witnessed how the world should look like when there is peace.

This was my reflection thank you very much. I hope to go again next year. Thank you.

After attending the 4th Anniversary of the WARP Summit, I realized that the DPCW is the answer to world peace, and I promised to work hard for implementing the DPCW into international law. In fact, I didn't know why Chairman Lee worked for world peace, but when heard that he was a veteran of the Korean War, I respect him.

Also, I was impressed by the musical in the youth session, a peace letter, I decided to deliver it to the president of Myanmar.

From now on, I will become a youth who will lead the pace in Myanmar through various activities such as youth empowerment workshops and peace painting contests with the IPYG.

I am Kelton Rodrigues from Mozambique, student and a Portuguese/English Translator. This year's WARP Summit was the first one I attended and thankfully I've got to learn more about HWPL, the IWPG and the IPYG. In addition I gleaned more information about the Declaration of Peace and Cessation of War and what it is all about. I believe if it is a document and the outcome of every country supporting and signing it will result in peace, then every country will soon enough be begging to understand and adopt it. I, as a youth-lover of peace, I will be more proactive and work towards the achievement of world peace, specially in my home country, Mozambique.

I was ecstatic to participate in HWPL's 4th Peace Summit.

The reunification of Korea has been a long-term term goal for us in achieving peace, but it is something that could easily go awry if we are not adequately prepared. In this sense, HWPL's peace education is essential for South Korea in order to maintain peace, which is why we must teach it in schools and look for ways to implement it into the system.

The mentality of peace first needs to settle in South Korea in order to achieve world peace. South Korean schools, organizations, companies, etc. should set up HWPL's peace educator fostering programs and continue to endorse peace education. I'll also join in this initiative. The winds of peace will begin from South Korea, and they will achieve the reunification of Korea as well as world peace. That's why this is the time where we must discuss peace education.

It was a dream for me to join the Peace Summit and the South Korean Religious Alliance.

I felt proud and enthusiastic and took a strong and positive energy from my participation to be a calling and peace ambassador in my country and do everything in my power to make the world better.

The world looked beautiful there and felt that I was in the land of peace. And I hope that the world will be like this and I am sure that it will be so and peace will come to our world. I am also proud that I am a member of the IPYG.

I learned a lot from them and how to be positive in everything and motivate many with me to be one and call for peace together so that we make a difference in our world and this is what HWPL always calls for.

Mr. Tharwat Gaid Salama Gaballa

Chairman of Horus foundation for Development and training

In the past, the youth of Thailand and Myanmar warred against each other. Decades later, the youth of Thailand and Myanmar came together in South Korea under the name of the IPYG to discuss peace.

The former Prime Minister of Bosnia and Herzegovina was a victim of a terrorist attack during his incumbency. After several surgeries to restore his health, he is now working to spread the message of peace, unlike other high classes that support war, so that women and the youth will no longer be sacrificed.

The participants of the HWPL World Peace Summit were people who had healed their pains from war with peace, and HWPL itself is doing unprecedented peace work around the world. I was also thankful and proud that I could participate in this work by being a part of the IPYG.

I cannot achieve peace alone, but if we all become one with IPGY, IWPG, and HWPL, we can achieve world peace. I was inspired by the people at the HWPL World Peace Summit who were working around the globe for peace and I am determined to work harder to bring peace to more people.
